PSC NAMES CHIEF REGULATORY LAW JUDGE

JEFFERSON CITY--The Missouri Public Service Commission has appointed Colleen M. (Cully) Dale as chief regulatory law judge effective immediately.

Dale will become director of the Adjudication Division, where regulatory law judges handle cases before the Commission. She will also be in charge of the PSC's data center, which stores and preserves the official case files, tariffs and other official documents of the Commission.

Cully Dale, with 15 years of government experience, worked as an attorney in the Public Service Commission's Office of General Counsel from 1992 to 1997. In July of 2004, she returned to the Commission as personal advisor to Commissioner Robert M. Clayton III.

Dale earned a bachelor of science degree in education from the University of Missouri-Columbia and received her law degree from the Washington University School of Law in St. Louis.
